Dear Andy

London Pay Offer

Thank you for your letter of 12 January 2023 which we discussed yesterday. The Executive Council has met today and considered the contents of this.

As you are aware the FBU is seeking a pay rise for our members across the UK and through the NJC. We defend national collective bargaining through the NJC, nevertheless we understand the comments you have made about the cost of living in London and we are aware the pressures our members in London face in the current cost of living crisis.

The Executive Council has therefore agreed that we should take up your offer of further discussions around your proposal and the contents of your letter.

The London Regional Committee of the union will meet this coming Monday, 16 January 2023 and I shall attend the meeting to report on these developments.

Yours sincerely
